Service: Interpretation

Background

In a groundbreaking collaboration, Global Voices partnered with ACO Severin, a global leader in water technology, to provide remote simultaneous interpretation for their inaugural digital event, the Global Architect's and Planners' Day. ACO Severin, driven by the mission "ACO, we care for water," focuses on innovative separation and filter technologies to preserve water integrity. The event aimed to bring together architects and planners globally to discuss advancements in rainwater and wastewater management. Deploying our expertise via Clevercast, a multilingual live streaming software, Global Voices ensured flawless communication during the event, where three speakers presented on diverse topics, incorporating films, PowerPoint presentations, and voice memos.

Challenge

The dynamic nature of the content, provided shortly before the event, posed a challenge that our adept interpreters seamlessly navigated. The spontaneous Q&A portion, conducted through participant chat, added an interactive element to the event.
